

PRIVACY POLICY

AUSTRALASIAN SOCIETY OF AESTHETIC PLASTIC SURGEONS

At the Australasian Society of Aesthetic Plastic Surgeons (ACN 005 415 681) (“ASAPS”) we recognise the importance of your privacy and understand your concerns about the security of the personal information you provide to us.

In the course of interacting with you, the collection of personal information in some instances is necessary or unavoidable. We are committed to protecting the privacy of all personal information that we collect and ensuring that your personal information is handled correctly.

All personal information collected by us will be treated in accordance with the Australian Privacy Principles (“APPs”) as contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (“Privacy Act”). The APPs detail how personal information may be collected, used, disclosed, stored and destroyed, and how an individual may gain access to or make complaints about the personal information held about them.

This policy (“Privacy Policy”) details the type of personal information we may collect from you, how we manage personal information about you, with whom we may share it and the choices available to you regarding our use of the information. We also describe the measures we take to safeguard your personal information and tell you how to contact us regarding our privacy practices.

What types of personal information do we collect and hold

“Personal information” is information or an opinion about an identified individual, or an individual who is reasonably identifiable, whether true or not, and whether recorded in a material form or not. Information where we have removed any reference to a person, so that the person cannot be reasonably identifiable from the information, is not personal information.

The kinds of personal information that we collect and hold from you may include:

- contact information, such as your name, postal address and e-mail address;
- member account information such as username and password;
- bank account, credit card information and other financial information; and
- any other personal information submitted to us by you.

We do not collect sensitive information (such as relating to your ethnic origin, religious or philosophical beliefs, membership of a political or trade association, sexual preferences or health), and would not do so without your consent.

You have the right to remain anonymous or use a pseudonym when dealing with us, unless:

- the use of your true identity is a legal requirement; or
- it is impracticable for us to deal with you on such basis.

How we collect and hold personal information

We aim to collect personal information only directly from you, unless it is unreasonable or impracticable for us to do so. For example, we may collect personal information about you from:

- information you provide us when you make an enquiry;
- information you submit to us via our website; and
- information derived from other communications between us and you.

However, in some circumstances, it may be necessary for us to collect personal information through other lawful means such as from third parties or from a source of publicly available information.

If we receive personal information that we have not requested (unsolicited information) and we determine that we could not have collected that information under the APPs if we had requested it, then we will destroy or de-identify the information if it is lawful and reasonable to do so.

Purposes for which we collect, hold, use and disclose personal information

We collect, hold, use and disclose personal information from you or about you where it is reasonably necessary for us in order to provide our services to you, to carry out our business functions or for such other purposes as specified at the time of collection, or for related purposes that you would reasonably expect.

Generally we will only use and disclose your personal information:

- to establish and maintain your relationship as a member of ASAPS;
- to provide you with such information as requested by you or to answer your enquiries;
- to provide you with information on our products and services; or
- to answer your enquiries.

We respect the privacy of your personal information and will take reasonable steps to keep it strictly confidential. We will only disclose personal information to third parties if it is necessary for the primary purpose of collecting the information, or for a related secondary purpose that could be reasonably expected. Where such a disclosure is necessary, we will require that the third party undertake to treat the personal information in accordance with the APPs.

If may be necessary for us to disclose personal information to overseas recipients from time-to-time. However, we will protect that information as described in this Privacy Policy and in accordance with the Privacy Act. We will also require that any overseas recipient undertakes to treat the personal information in accordance with the APPs.

Otherwise, we will only disclose your personal information to third parties without your consent if the disclosure is:

- necessary to protect or enforce our legal rights or interests or to defend any claims;
- necessary to prevent or lessen a serious threat to a person's health or safety;
- required or authorised by law; or
- permitted by another exception in the Privacy Act.

Where we wish to use or disclose your personal information for other purposes, we will obtain your consent.

How we secure and protect your personal information

We will take reasonable steps to keep secure any personal information which we hold and to keep this information accurate and up to date.

Your personal information is held and stored on paper, by electronic means or both. We have physical, electronic and procedural safeguards in place for personal information and take reasonable steps to ensure that your personal information is protected from misuse, interference, loss and unauthorized access, modification and disclosure. We use industry accepted and compliant technology and security so that we are satisfied that your information is transmitted safely to us through the internet or other electronic means.

- Data held and stored on paper is stored in lockable offices and in secure premises.
- Data held and stored electronically is protected by internal and external firewalls, limited access via file passwords, and files designated read-only or no access.
- Data held and stored “in the cloud” is protected by internal and external firewalls, limited access via file passwords and files designated read-only or no access. We also require our IT contractors and other third parties to implement privacy safeguards.
- Where we disclose personal information to third parties (including contractors and affiliated businesses located locally and overseas), our contractual arrangements with them include specific privacy requirements.

Destruction and De-identification

We will retain your personal information whilst it is required for the purpose for which it was collected, for our business functions, or for any other lawful purpose.

We use secure methods to destroy or to permanently de-identify your personal information when it is no longer needed. For example, paper records are shredded or destroyed securely and electronic records are deleted from all locations, to the best of our ability, or encrypted and/or placed beyond use.

Websites

While our website may contain links to other websites owned by third parties, those websites are not subject to our privacy standards, policies and procedures. We recommend that you make your own enquires as to the privacy policies of these third parties and we are in no way responsible for the privacy practices of these third parties.

Requests for access and correction

You have a right to request access to, and correction of, personal information held about you. We have procedures in place for dealing with and responding to requests for access to, and correction of, the personal information held about you.

To request access to or correction of personal information held about you, please send a written request to us. Our contact details can be found below.

Your written request should include:

- if it is a request for access to personal information, details regarding which information is requested to be produced; or
- if it is a request to correct personal information, details of the misrepresented information and the corrections to be made.

In most cases, we expect that we will be able to comply with your request. However, if we do not agree to provide you access or to correct the information as requested, we will give you written reasons why. For example, a request to access personal information may be rejected if:

- the request is frivolous or vexatious;
- providing access would have an unreasonable impact on the privacy of another person;
- providing access would pose a serious and imminent threat to the life or health of any person;
- providing access would prejudice our legal rights; or
- there are other legal grounds to deny the request.

To assist us to keep our records up-to-date, please notify us of any changes to your personal information.

Complaints and concerns

We have procedures in place for dealing with complaints and concerns about our practices in relation to the Privacy Act and the APPs. We will respond to your complain in accordance with the relevant provisions of the APP. Any complaints should be directed to us at our contact details below.

Changes to this Privacy Policy

It may be necessary for us to review and revise our Privacy Policy from time to time. An amended version will be posted on our website at <http://asaps.org.au/>. We suggest that you visit our website regularly to keep up to date with any changes.

Contact

If you would like any further information, or have any queries, problems or complaints in relation to this Privacy Policy or our information handling practices in general, please email us at sali@asaps.org.au or call us on 13000ASAPS (1300027277).